DIED IN CELL AT POLICE STATION

John Crowley Passed Away While Under Treatment for Acute Alcoholism.

John Crowley died in the police station shortly after seven o'clock on Sunday night, of acute alcoholism. Crowley was brought to the station on Saturday afternoon for drunkenness and he was then seen to be in a bad condition. That evening, Dr. C. B. Johnston was called and he attended him, and Sunday morning he was somewhat better. He saw him again during the afternoon, and he was then holding his own. During the day two men held at the station attended Crowley, and one of them was looking after him all of the time. Shortly before seven o'clock he apparently fell asleep, and shortly before 7.30 one of the men heard a queer noise coming from the cell and looking in found that he had died. He called Captain Marden and Dr. Johnston was called, and he arrived in a few minutes, but Crowley was dead, and in the opinion of the physician, had been dead about twenty minutes. The body was turned over to Undertaker H. W. Nickerson for burial and he had passed the greater part of his time for the past several years at Brentwood.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

A Heavy Frost Ruins Much Vegetation

Have Hunters Been Breaking Gray Squirrel Law?

Eliot, Me., Sept. 20.
Mrs. Bessie Stoddard and Dorothy Odell, also Mr. Harry Odell, of Salem Mass., were Sunday guests at Fred M. Staples in South Eliot.

Rev. Edgar T. Pitts visited his daughters in Boston over Sunday. The pulpit at the Congregational church was occupied, morning and evening mouth Young Men's Christian Association.

It is hinted that some of the bird hunters, finding that kind of game scarce, have been violating the law against killing gray squirrels. Rabbits are reported plenty.

Henry McKenney of Lynn, Mass., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Elvira J. McKenney.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Libbey returned today to Boston for the winter. Mrs. Libbey has spent the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John L. M. Willis, and Mr. Libbey has passed the Sundays in town with his wife's relatives. Outside the home circles, Mrs. Libbey will be especially missed in the Congregational church where her violinello playing has been of great assistance in the music.

The first frost of the season, came on Tuesday morning, Aug. 31 killing squash vines and on some farms doing considerable damage to sweet corn, beans and potatoes. There have been several light frosts since then, but the one this morning was a severe killing frost, sweeping down everything except the hardest vegetation. It extended over the whole town, reaching within a few feet of the salt water. The lowest temperature reported was twenty-nine degrees above zero.

One of the beauties of the town is the splendid plot of dahlias at Dr. Henry I. Durgin's. They are of all the dahlia colors, including the new varieties, and are of the finest quality, showing the care that has been bestowed upon them.

THE WEATHER

Monday night and Tuesday.—Generally fair with low temperature. Portions of southern New England may be visited by showers.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

Daniel Sully Tonight

In the new play "The Matchmaker" written by Jerrold Shepard, which will be seen at the Portsmouth Music Hall this evening, Daniel Sully returns to the character of a priest, in the portrayal of which he was so successful in the past.

"The Matchmaker" is essentially a play of American life. The scenes are laid in a small mining town in Idaho and the characters are types of the vigorous humanity found in that region.

Jim Carter, a wealthy ranchman, is in love with his ward, who is ac-ers and in the development of the plot he finally brings Carter to a realization of his helplessness of his position. As a last resort Carter is about to reveal the fact that the girl's father died a suicide rather than face exposure as a forger, hoping that this disclosure will separate the lovers. Father Daly, after vainly pleading, watches from Carter the papers that would reveal the girl's shame and turns them in defiance of Carter who, with drawn revolver, demands their return.

In that act the priest's influence is devoted to bringing together Car-his wife.

Aside from the strong dramatic features the play has a vein of comedy that is bright and original. Many amusing complications arise from Father Daly's efforts to adjust the love affairs of a pompous army colonel and a fascinating widow of the East.

In his eagerness to make everybody happy the good priest falls into a blunder which in itself is a comedy plot that is laughable in the extreme.

As Father Daly, the kind old priest Mr. Sully has a character that gives him one of the best opportunities of his career, a character of rare sweetness, dramatic strength and happy humor, combined with touches of exquisite pathos in which the fine art of this sterling actor is seen at its very best.

which to base a judgment of what he is about to do and to justify the action when it is done. Mr. Belasco has furnished several of these in the lines of the play.

For instance, Rance appears in time to prevent untimely injury to a card sharp who has just been detected in the act of holding an extra ace. The miners with whom he has been playing are in favor of attaching the luckless gambler to the end of a rope and dangling him from a tree, but Rance decides that the man shall be given another chance. Taking one of the aces from the pack of cards thrown carelessly on the table, he pins it upon the sharp's jacket just over his heart. Then warning the much frightened crook that if he is caught again at the card table he will perforate the spot on the card with a bullet, Rance turns him loose.

From that time forward until given permission by the sheriff the card sharp is forced to wear the chosen card pinned to his coat as a sign of infamy, and Rance finds no occasion to use his revolver.

funless. "Eight Bells" in all their Mirthfulness.

Almost entirely rearranged and greatly improved the "Brothers Gryce" will bring "Eight Bells" the Portsmouth Music Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 22.

This popular production has been on the road several years and its success has been remarkable, and now in its bright new clothes, it is destined to another long life.

While many of the big features still remain, there are a number of new ones and the old "Eight Bells" is scarcely recognizable.

Among the principle favorite old features is the revolving ship scene which is probably the most popular and attractive in the production. There is much that is new about this also, there are a number of new specialties.

The acrobatic work has not been displaced for there is an abundance of it, and in a very attractive and entertaining form. The acrobatic troupe is complete in every particular and their work much of which is entirely new is remarkable.

The scenery is entirely new, and exceedingly unique.

"Deadwood Dick" on Friday

Something out of the usual run of Western melodramas is promised by the management of "Deadwood Dick's Last Shot" which is to be seen at the Portsmouth Music Hall next Friday.

The play, which is in four acts and eight scenes, is by Owen Davis, and as its title implies is sensational without being improbable or lurid. It is an entertainment that should appeal to the most exacting tastes of any audience because of its thorough characterization, plausibility of plot and skillful blending of infectious comedy, pathos, thrills and heart throbs.

It literally reeks of the atmosphere of the lowlands, canyons, valleys and trails of picturesque California, where its story is located.

Deadwood Dick is an admirable Western gambler who plunges himself into all sorts of peril and trying situations to save the girl he loves from her enemies. Dick faces death many times but with that indomitable pluck characteristic of the American youth outwits those who would do him harm.

The piece is staged in thorough up to date fashion and besides has the services of a fine cast.

YORK

Mrs. Mary A. Young, of Manchester, who spends her summers here at Spray View cottage, on Sunday celebrated the anniversary of her birth in a manner quite unexpected to her. A number of her friends came to call upon her and extend their congratulations. So many bouquets of beautiful flowers were presented to her that her cottage resembled a conservatory.

After an hour of sociability the guests repaired to the broad veranda, where a dainty lunch was served. A large birthday cake, bearing the inscription, "Happy Birthday," was presented to Mrs. Young and was then served to the guests.

Much pleasure was afforded by the singing of Mrs. Helen O'Donnell of Brooklyn. All sorts of plans and stratagems were used by those having the affair in charge to keep it as a "perfect surprise" to Mrs. Young and in this they were successful.

Those present were: Mrs. Frank Holt, Mrs. Helen O'Donnell, Mrs. Simmonds, Mrs. E. Truesdale, Mrs. Elsie Maxson, Mrs. James Colby, Mrs. Sackett, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Quinnby, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. E. Snow, Mrs. Roy Piper, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Talley, Miss Mary Vaughn, Mrs. Claudius Byrne, Miss Merlie Heckins, Miss Nellie Vaughn, Fred Scribner, Rev. Claudius Byrne and Mrs. Mary A. Young.

The 133rd annual session of the York Baptist association will be held with the church at Kennecunkport village Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 and 23. The following have been elected delegates from the Saco Main Street Baptist church: John G. Smith and wife, Samuel Smith and wife, Mrs. Annie Cobb Smith, Miss Edna Stacy, Mrs. E. A. Bennett, Mrs. Grace J. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Perkins. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson, will be one of the speakers at this session of the association.

DIED AT HER HOME IN RYE

cretely betrothed to a young mining engineer from the East. Carter learns of this and mad with love for the girl and fury at his rival he attempts to remove the latter from his path and forces the girl to marry him. At this juncture Father Daly, the priest of the little frontier church, saves the young man from lynching by Carter and his friends, who wrongfully suspect him of horse stealing.

The kindly influence of the priest furthers the cause of the young lover and his housekeeper, a woman with whom he has lived for years, but is about to discard. Having made the young lovers man and wife, Father Daly at last succeeds in bringing the humbled and broken Carter to his duty and in a scene of rare dramatic power and intense pathos shows him that refuge and peace may yet be found with the woman whose heart he has nearly broken. Carter, subdued and chastened, realizes the worth of her love for him and turns to her at last, promising to make her

BULLETS FIRED INTO HIS NECK

Blunt Instrument Also Used to Kill Dr. Stone.

TWO SUSPECTS ARE HELD

One of Them Is the Last One Known to Have Been With Doctor, Driving Him From Farmhouse to Railroad Station—No Other Motive Than Robbery Suggested in Connection With the Case.

Ayer, Mass., Sept. 20.—That Dr. Henry N. Stone, the Newburyport dentist, whose body was found near the main highway between this town and Harvard, was a victim of murder, was proved conclusively by the autopsy. In addition to wounds made apparently by a blunt instrument, such as a heavy stone, it was found that two bullets had entered the left side of the neck.

Dr. Stone was last seen alive last Monday night—between 8 and 9 o'clock, when he left the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles G. Davis, in Harvard, to drive to the Ayer station, where he was to take a train. The farmhand who accompanied Stone on the drive denies any knowledge of the death and insists that he left Stone at the Ayer railroad station just before the arrival of the 9:20 train.

The farmhand, Raymond Plouffe, and Felix Lapointe, who has been assisting Plouffe in driving a milk route, were taken into custody and sent to the jail in Clinton, where they are held for an examination. Both the men have been closely questioned by the officers, but they stick to the assertion that they know nothing of the death of Stone. Both profess confidence that they can prove their innocence.

The autopsy was performed in the cemetery here. The body, which had been kept in a tomb since it was found on Friday, was removed to the open air, where the examination was made. Screens placed about the body protected it from the view of hundreds of curious people who gathered at the cemetery.

The discovery of the bullets in the neck was the first intimation to the officers that Stone was shot before he was struck on the head with a heavy stone. The two bullets of 22-calibre were removed and taken possession of by the medical examiner, as also were two large stones on which blood stains appeared. The entire upper half of the skull, including the nose, was crushed in. Dr. Tobey, the medical examiner, will hold an inquest in Clinton some time this week.

State detectives are at work on the mystery, being assisted by Constable Hanna of Harvard and Deputy Sheriff Filibrown of Ayer. No other motive than robbery has been suggested in connection with the case. Stone is known to have been in the habit of carrying large sums of money, but in his clothing the officers found only $1.27. It is believed that he had at least $500 with him when he set out from the home of his sister to drive to the Ayer station.

Charles Stone, a cousin of Dr. Stone, says that during an interview with the doctor last Monday afternoon the doctor took from his pocket a large roll of bills and some of them at least were of large denomination.

A 22-calibre revolver and bullets of the calibre of those found in the body were found in the upper drawer of the bureau in Plouffe's room in the attic of the Davis farmhouse. These are now in the possession of the police. Plouffe admitted ownership of the revolver and the cartridges and Lapointe admitted that he also owns a 22-calibre revolver, a 22-calibre and a 32-calibre rifle.

After the two suspects were formally arrested the officers searched Plouffe and found $321 in his pockets. They also secured his admission that he had spent considerable money during the last few days and that since Stone left the Davis farm on Monday evening he has paid Mrs. Davis $65 for milk which he buys from her.

May Have Struck Old Wreck Vineyard, Haven, Mass., Sept. 20.—Captain Littlejohn and the five men composing the crew of schooner Charles J. ## WELCOMED BY TAFT

Japanese Visitors and President Exchange Hearty Compliments

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.—President Taft met the fifty members of the Japanese commercial mission to the United States, bade them a hearty welcome to the country, assured them of the lasting friendship of the American people, paid a tribute to their qualities of industry and patriotism and in conclusion drank a toast to the emperor of Japan as "the warm and sincere friend of America."

President Taft scouted the idea that there had ever been the slightest danger of trouble between Japan and America. His address, which throughout was filled with expressions of the warmest admiration for the Japanese emperor and the Japanese people, followed a speech by Baron Shibusawa, a banker of Tokio and chairman of the visiting commission, in which he referred to President Taft as "one of the foremost men of the age and a warm and true friend of Japan."

RECEIVED STOLEN GOODS

Charge Preferred Against a Wholesale Junk Dealer of Boston

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 20.—Charged with receiving a large quantity of goods stolen from the General Electric company, Philip Broomfield, a wholesale junk dealer of Boston and Chelsea, was brought here from his home in Chelsea and was held in bonds of $15,000, which he furnished.

A secret indictment returned by the Essex county grand jury led up to Broomfield's arrest. Broomfield is to appear before that body, it is understood.

An official of the company says that they learned of an alleged conspiracy between Broomfield and employees of the company. It is said that the action taken against Broomfield was brought about through the alleged confession of a man said to be an accomplice in the case.

MURDER SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST

Robbery the Alleged Motive For Committing Deed

North Adams, Mass., Sept. 20.—By the arrest of two men the police believe they have cleared the mystery of the murder of Giovanni Cannalzo, aged 38, whose body was found beside the railroad tracks here Saturday night by the crew of a freight train. The two men, Antonio Scollio, aged 18, and Vincenzo Jammello, aged 25, were captured by two constables in Cheshire as they were walking along the line of the Berkshire street railway early Sunday.

Robbery is alleged to have been the motive of the crime. Cannalzo had about $48 on his person Saturday night, and this was missing when his body was found. It is said that $17.75 was recovered from the arrested men.

FRIENDS ARE HOPEFUL

Governor Johnson's Chances For Recovery Are Said to Be Even

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 20.—Governor Johnson is still in a critical condition, with the chances even for his recovery.

Sunday morning the governor was given a small quantity of champagne, but this he could not retain. The only nourishment he has so far been able to retain is carbonated water, two quarts of which were given him Sunday. His abdomen is still distended by gas, which, however, does not cause such severe pain as heretofore.

Dr. McNeill states that the danger from peritonitis had not yet passed. The patient slept more Sunday than on any day since his operation, and this has given his friends hope.

KING HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Centre, Oskipee, N. H., Sept. 20.—On the charge of murdering his wife, Mary T. King, on Sept. 3, Henry W. King of Moultonville was held without bail to await the action of the Carroll county grand jury at the conclusion of a hearing before Trial Justice Nash.

Mrs. King died from a gunshot wound and her husband claimed that she picked up a loaded gun which he had been cleaning and shot herself accidentally. The prosecution claims that the course taken by the bullets disproves the accident theory.

KEPT THE NEWS FROM PEARY

Pritchard Heard Cook Say He Had Reached Pole

CABIN BOY ON ROOSEVELT

Is Led to Tell His Story When Cook Wires From Midcoast That He Knows All the Details—Was Told to Say Nothing Until Peary's Ship Had Reached Civilization and He Followed Instructions

Battle Harbor, Labrador, by Wireless Telegraph, via Cape Ray, N. F., Sept. 20.—One of the men on the steamer Roosevelt at least knew long ago that Dr. Frederick A. Cook had claimed to have reached the Pole. He is William Pritchard, cabin boy and assistant cook on the Roosevelt, who remained at Annatok with Boatswain Murphy to guard the stores.

Pritchard had not spoken to any one on board of Cook's achievement, but when confronted, just prior to the sailing of the Roosevelt from Battle Harbor, with a wireless message from midcoast that Cook said Pritchard knew the whole story of his dash for the Pole, the youth admitted that he had learned from Cook the details of the final march and that Cook had explained to him the route followed.

Whether Murphy also was informed of Cook's success Pritchard did not know, but unquestionably Harry Whitney, who was at the storehouse when Cook returned from his dash with the two Eskimos, is conversant with all the facts. Whitney did not disclose this interesting piece of news to Commander Peary, and Pritchard kept it from Peary during the entire voyage of the Roosevelt to Battle Harbor.

Pritchard said that he was at the house at Annatok with Whitney and Cook, while Murphy was at Etah. He heard Cook describe to the New Haven sportsman how he went to the Pole and remained there two days. He could not remember whether Cook said he remained there April 21 and April 22, or whether it was April 22 and 23. Cook used a map to illustrate the route followed.

Asked why he had not repeated this on board the Roosevelt, Pritchard said that Cook had told him to say nothing about his having been at the Pole until the Roosevelt reached civilization.

Followed by the cheers and shouts of half a hundred Labrador fishermen, and given a farewell salute from the historical old cannon which stands near the Marconi station, the Peary Arctic steamer Roosevelt sailed Saturday for Sydney and New York, flying the North Pole flag. This flag was made at Battle Harbor.

The Roosevelt, now homeward bound, is scarred and blackened from contact with mountains of floating ice and boring through interminable fogs.

Captain Bartlett said that he intended to push his ship through the gulf of St. Lawrence as fast as possible, with a day's stop at Sydney. He hopes to reach New York next week.

GIVES CREDIT TO PEARY

Cook Says Another Side of Commander's Character Has Been Disclosed

On Board Oscar II, by United Wireless Telegraph, via Boston, Sept. 20.—The steamer Oscar II, with Dr. Frederick A. Cook aboard, will not arrive at New York until Tuesday morning. This is at the urgent request of the reception committee which is to meet Cook.

The steamer could have reached Sandy Hook this afternoon, but a message from the reception committee, asking that the arrival be delayed, owing to the fact that it was impossible to change the committee's arrangements, was received last evening, and the steamer was accordingly delayed to comply with the request. The Oscar II is, therefore, under decreased speed, and will reach quarantine at about 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Dr. Cook appears to exercise great self-restraint, but can hardly repress a natural annoyance at impeachment of his veracity without proofs. He requested the press to make public the following:

"Commander Peary has as yet given to the world no proofs of his own case. My claim has been fully recognized by Denmark and by the king of Sweden; the President of the United States of America has wired me his confidence; my claim has been accepted by the international bureau for Polar research at Brussels; most of the geographical societies of Europe have sent me congratulations, which means faith and acceptance for the present; and almost every explorer of note has come forward with warm and friendly approval."

"A specific record of my journey is accessible to all, and everyone who reads can decide for himself. When Peary publishes a similar report then our cases parallel. Why should Peary be allowed to make himself a self-proclaimed dictator of my affairs? In justice to himself, in justice to the world and in guard the honor of national prestige, he should be compelled to prove his own case; he should publish at once a preliminary narrative, to be compared with mine, and let fair-minded people ponder over the matter while the final reports by which our case may eventually be proved are being prepared.

"I know Peary the explorer. As such he is a hero in Arctic annals and deserves the credit of a long and hard record. To Peary the explorer I am still willing to tip my hat, but Peary's unfounded accusations have disclosed another side to his character, which will never be forgotten.

"When Peary wired that he had nailed the Stars and Stripes to the Pole, I immediately sent congratulations. I then believed, as I do now, that his work over a new route far out of my line of travel was a new conquest of great importance and, of course, that his position at the Pole would supplement my work with valuable data. There is room enough and honor enough for two American flags at the Pole."

Arctic Club's Faith in Cook New York, Sept. 20.—As to the Arctic Club of America on Dr. Cook's reported achievement, Dr. Stebbins, who has taken a prominent part in the arrangements for his reception, says that the club accepts Dr. Cook's statements absolutely and that if there is to be further controversy it is incumbent upon the Peary advocates to disprove Cook's claim, rather than for him to produce more data at the present time. The club has planned no official action along this line.

BOY KILLED BY AUTO

Member of Massachusetts Legislature Is Charged With Manslaughter

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 20.—Representative Norman H. White of Brookline was arrested here and charged with manslaughter, following an accident in which his automobile ran over and almost instantly killed John B. Bourgeois, aged 7 years.

Bourgeois was playing in the street and darted from the curbing across the street as the automobile came along. His neck was broken by the impact and his head and shoulders were badly crushed and mangled.

Following his arrest White furnished bail in $1000 and was released, the case coming up for a hearing on Wednesday.

Omaha, Sept. 20.—The street car system of Omaha and Council Bluffs was unexpectedly put out of commission by a strike of nearly 500 motormen and conductors on the question of a new wage schedule.

Violence broke out at Council Bluffs Sunday afternoon, when a car was derailed and the windows smashed. The conductor was hit in the face with a brickbat, but was not seriously hurt. Five strikers were arrested, charged with riotous conduct.

Fifty-four strike breakers were brought to Omaha from Chicago Sunday. It is understood that 400 more are expected to arrive today.

TO BECOME LIBRARIAN

Cardenio King Gets an Easter Berth in Massachusetts State Prison

Boston, Sept. 20.—Cardenio F. King, now serving a sentence in state prison, is to be the librarian, and in the last few days that William Vanderlip is passing within the walls of that institution, he is "flipping" his successor for the position.

Even in prisons they talk about promotions. King's new job is regarded in this light among the unfortunates. Pulls don't pull in this place, said Warden Bridges when talking in regard to the assignment of King to his new place.

"We reward brains here just as they do in the outside world. We had to have a new man in the library because Vanderlip was leaving us, so we selected the man we believed to be best fitted for the place."

Up to a few days ago King worked in the shop where hose is manufactured.

LITTLE GIRL CHIEF WITNESS

Says Well Educated Woman Was Implicated in Murder

MAN LURED TO HIS DEATH

Jealous Rival Said to Have Fired Several Shots into His Body Without Killing Him—Woman Later Finds Victim Alive and Completes the Job, It Is Alleged, by Slashing Throat of Their Victim

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 20.—Sensational developments were brought to light by the coroner's investigation in the murder of Broniek Kulivinski, a Union City saloon keeper who died Saturday night at a local hospital, and for whose death Sophia Kritchman, a well educated Lithuanian music teacher, and Joseph Pezchillis, a local bartender, are being held. Kulivinski had several bullet wounds in his body and his throat was slashed.

According to the testimony jealousy seems to have been the motive. The police assert that the fatal shots were fired by Pezchillis and that the slashing of the victim's throat was done by the woman.

The most important witness in the case is Victoria Danton, 10 years old, of Union City. According to the testimony, on Friday afternoon the Kritchman woman took the little girl out for a walk. They reached the spot where Kulivinski, who had been shot in the morning, was lying in a pool of blood, just over the Waterbury line from Union City. The woman poked the body with a stick, and when she found that he was still alive told the girl if she said anything about it she would kill her.

On Saturday morning the woman came to this city, where Pezchillis was employed as a bartender, and the two returned to the lonely spot in the woods. The woman slashed Kulivinski's throat and Pezchillis fired three more shots into his helpless rival. The dying man was found by several boys in the afternoon. The woman was arrested in the cellar of her home and Pezchillis was captured in this city.

The inquest brought out that the murdered man had been attentive to Sophia Kritchman, that Pezchillis was jealous, and that Kulivinski had several days ago made the statement that he knew Pezchillis would kill him if he knew of his attentions to the girl.

Friday morning Kulivinski told Miss Kritchman that he intended to marry another girl. Kulivinski had been the favored suitor, but when she heard this story she told Pezchillis that Kulivinski had been bothering her and the two planned to lure the victim to his death.

It is alleged that Kulivinski and the woman started from Union City and had entered some woods across the Waterbury line when Pezchillis, who had been following the pair, caught up with them. He fired four shots at Kulivinski, all of which struck the mark.

WON'T QUIT POLITICS

Minister Declares That He Would Rather Leave the Pulpit

Boston, Sept. 20.—Rev. William A. Knight of the Brighton Congregational church, in a sensational letter advocating a candidate for the state senate in the fifth Suffolk district, has announced his willingness to resign his pastorate if his political belief offends his parishioners. In this circular letter Dr. Knight says: "I have now done my duty as I see it, with no ill will toward any man. I know well how deeply this act will grieve some of the best men with whom I am associated, men as dear to me as ever men were."

"Though sure of their generous magnanimity, my resignation of my pastorate is ready as the great price which I probably ought to pay that I may not flinch from doing unto the last that I can do to save Brighton from devastating powers."

CORPORATIONS WILL FIGHT

"Lawyer Proof" Blank Forms to Be Submitted Under New Tax Law

Washington, Sept. 20.—Newly formulated office, Commissioner Cabell of the internal revenue bureau is now engaged in the heavy task of providing for the execution of the corporation tax law. He is in daily consultation with his deputies and law officers of the government departments regarding the preparation of the blank forms which must be sent to the various internal revenue collectors and by them placed in the hands of the corporation officers within their respective districts.

Before the blanks are issued they will also be submitted to the secretary of the treasury and attorney general. These precautionary measures are necessary in order to render the forms "lawyer proof," because it is quite certain that the new law will never be put into operation without undergoing fierce onslaughts in the courts at the hands of the ablest attorneys in the land.

Every corporation or stock company save labor, religious and mutual associations from which no individual derives a profit and whose net income exceeds $5000 per annum, must fill in the blanks under heavy penalty, not only for the corporation itself, but for the derelict officials. False returns will be made the subject of severe punishment.

HAS POPULATION OF THREE MILLION

Figures of Bay State Census of 1905 Made Public

Boston, Sept. 20.—The population of Massachusetts on May 1, 1905, the date of taking the last decennial state census, was 3,003,680, of which 1,461,589 were males, and 1,542,091 females, according to the report of that census just made public by Director Gettely of the Massachusetts bureau of statistics.

This is an increase of 198,334 persons over the figures reported for 1900, and compares with the total population of 3,787,787, reported in 1790, when the first national census was taken.

Boston has ranked as the first city every year since 1790. Worcester has held the second position as regards population since 1855. Fall River now occupies third position and next in order are Cambridge, Lowell, Lynn, New Bedford, Springfield, Lawrence and Somerville.

The city which has shown the most phenomenal growth in population is Everett. In 1885 Everett had 5825 inhabitants and was in the last rank of the present cities. In 1905 that city had 23,111 persons, a gain of 23,236, and was twentieth in position.

The only town showing a decrease is Adams. This town ranked first among the towns in total population in 1875, but since that time has fallen off 2.77 percent, or a loss of 3274 persons.

The following figures show the census in a nutshell:

State's population	3,003,680
Native birth	2,085,636
Foreign birth	918,044
Married	37.76 percent
Single	62.24 percent
Legal voters	674,174

SCHOOL CHILDREN CONTEST FOR CHARLES DICKENS' PRIZES

Mr. Alfred Nelson, Special Representative for Edward C. White's production of Charles Dickens' Masterpiece of Fiction, "David Copperfield" arrived in town yesterday to arrange for its presentation at Music Hall, on Monday evening, Sept. 27, and also, to organize the "Charles Dickens' League."

Mr. Nelson is highly pleased with the many communications from Dickens' enthusiasts, making inquiries relative to the announcement which appeared in print several days ago.

Especially was this true of the children who desire to take part in the play.

It was with keen regret that after selecting the six juvenile players that he was forced to disappoint the others, as judging from the carefully noted contents of their applications, they were well versed in Dickens' works.

To compensate their disappointment and further develop their literary desires, arrangements have been completed with Local Manager P. W. Hartford to inaugurate a "Dickens' Essay Contest." To be eligible, it is merely necessary for each contestant to be a regular attendant of a local school. Essays to be limited to 250 words. All essays must be in the hands of Committee of Judges on Thursday, Sept. 23. The prizes to be awarded will be a box seat for the evening performance. There will be 20 prize box seats awarded by the judges.

The Charles Dickens League have kindly consented to act for the contestants.

Each box party will be chaptered by a lady member of the League. Write on one side of paper only and mail to "The Charles Dickens' League," Music Hall, Portsmouth, N. H.

Prize winners will be announced in newspapers Saturday, Sept. 25.

MAINE WOMAN PUZZLED POLICE

Appeared at Hotel in Male Attire and Then in Women's Clothes -- Had Plenty of Money.

There was a woman registered at the Kearsarge hotel last week who gave the proprietors Newton and the local police something to puzzle over.

Friday night a "man" appeared at the hotel and registered as Henry Melvin, China, Me., and after being assigned a room he appeared about the office of the hotel and talked with some of the men. Saturday morning he was about as usual and nobody thought anything of the matter until in the afternoon when he came back to the hotel with some bundles and a few minutes later a woman appeared in the office. One look was enough to prove the fact that it was the same person of the male clothes, and he gave the clerk a surprise when he turned back the register and told him to put "Mrs." before Henry Melvin, as her husband was coming.

Before the clerk could recover she returned to her room, and he, thinking that there was something queer in the matter, telephoned the police. Deputy Sheriff Hurly went down to the hotel and was shown up to the room occupied by the man (or woman). She was there with a man's cap and female clothes. She knew his errand at once and did not appear to be at all concerned.

She said she was all right; that she was traveling without her husband and felt safer in male attire. She had plenty of money to pay her way, and to prove it showed three bank books, one for $500, and the others for smaller sums. She also had deeds of property in China, Me., and appeared to be simply an odd one.

She said that her husband was going to join her so the police withdrew from the matter. He husband, however, did not arrive on Sunday, and Mr. or Mrs. (which ever it was) Melvin left the hotel and departed from the town.

She was a queer make-up, but the police had nothing to detain her on, for that matter they had no reason to suspect anything other than from her queer actions.

STATE COLLEGE

Willard Harvey Gildersleeve, the famous Wesleyan halfback, who was graduated from that university in 1908, is to coach the New Hampshire State college team this season. Mr. Gildersleeve is a native of Gildersleeve, Portland township, Connecticut. He first attracted attention on the teams of Portland high school. For some seasons he was the mainstay of the Middletown high school football team, and a reliable fielder on the baseball nine. His career at Wesleyan was a succession of athletic triumphs. He made the eleven in his freshman year, and throughout his course proved himself the most valuable man in the backfield on the team. He belongs to that class of players commonly known as "stealing backs." He was always a man to be depended upon while on the gridiron. As a baseball player he has no slight reputation although he never tried for the team while in college. For three years Mr. Gildersleeve played on the Connecticut state hospital baseball team, being one year captain and holder of the highest batting average. He has also played one year on a county championship Young Men's Christian Association team. As a track man he has proved his value and can be considered no slouch at basketball, as the record shows. On squad at college, professional ball, and one of the well known Gildersleeve five, some of whom are college athletes at the present time. His coaching experience began with Middletown high school in '95 and '96. In the latter year he turned out a state championship team. Since then he has for a time coached Connecticut State college.

This summer he has taken a course at the Harvard summer school of physical training, completing his work with high standing.

The following is the football schedule for the season: Oct. 2, Holy Cross at Worcester, Mass.; Oct. 9, University of Maine at Orono, Me.; Oct. 15, dates at Durham; Oct. 22, Boston college at Durham; Oct. 30, University of Vermont at Burlington, Vt.; Nov. 5, Massachusetts Aggies at Manchester; Nov. 12, Rhode Island at Durham.

"THE TRAVELING SALESMAN"
Made a Big Hit With Two Large Audiences at Music Hall Saturday

The much anticipated production of "The Traveling Salesman" was given at Music Hall on Saturday afternoon and evening and it came up to all expectations and greatly pleased the large audience at both matinee and evening performance. The comedy is a good one, for the comedy is good at all times and the plot something reasonable and not too far drawn, in fact the same may be said of the comedy. The characters from big breezy Austin Webb, as Bob Blake, to the little children were all natural and not at any time overdone.

The story is that of the lightning bolt-making of Bob Blake, the traveling man, who thought himself immune from a woman, who falls in love at first sight with the pretty station agent, Beth Elliott, who is hustling to make a living and keep some property left her by her father. The taxes are overdue and the property, which is wanted for railroad improvement, is to be sold for taxes. Of course there is the villain who seeks to get the property and this is where Bob fits in when he discovers the plot.

Bob gets in some fast work and as usual is rewarded by the hand of Beth. Austin Webb was exceptionally good as Blake, the drummer, and besides being a rattling good comedian he is there strong with the emotional part.

He received excellent support from the entire company. Miss Rosalind Coghlan, as Beth Elliott, was very good, graceful and pretty. Miss Elizabeth Mason, as Mrs. Dabbitt, the widow with a mind of her own, was one of the strong parts of the cast. The part was not overdone, but there was the natural, irritable, quick-tempered, fussy old widow, but in all good hearted and loquacious. These three characters had the stage a good part of the time and they presented a happy combination. George DeVore Julius, the colored man about the hotel, was exceptionally funny, and he kept the audience in a roar while he was on the stage. The little Hackett children were very clever, as was Florence Hackett in the role of their mother. The same may be said of every character. Albert McGovern as Franklin Royce, George Southfield as Bill Crail, the station agent; Gideon Norton as Will; Henry Hanson and John Kimball, drummer; Joseph Sullivan as Percy Gile and Ben Cobb, the veteran traveling man; J. C. Hamilton as Martin Drury, and John W. Sherman as Ted Watts, Bob Blake's running mate.

AT DARTMOUTH
The funeral of Dr. William T. Smith, dean of the Dartmouth medical college, a widely known physician and son of the late Dr. Asa D. Smith, a former president of Dartmouth college, who died Friday, was held on Sunday afternoon at the Dartmouth college church, following brief prayers at the house. Members of the faculty, students of the medical college and the academic departments, as well as representatives of various state and national societies of which he was a member, attended the services. Rev. F. L. Janeway, pastor of the college church, officiated, the prayer being offered by Rev. Dr. S. P. Leeds, for fifty years pastor of the church. The eulogy was pronounced by Prof. Edwin J. Bartlett, son of a former president of the college, and connected with the chemistry department of the college. A double male quartette of students sang. The burial was in the village cemetery where rest many of the college. The bearers were E. P. Storrs, H. H. Langille, Prof. T. W. D. Worthen and three students of the medical college, Dr. F. ## AT DARTMOUTH

Jack Ingersoll, the crack Dartmouth halfback, arrived on Saturday afternoon, but did not get out in uniform, as coach Lillard waived the afternoon practice. Ingersoll is in great shape, having been engaged in outdoor work all summer. On Saturday the backs were given a try at squad work. Jack Ryan has made his appearance and will begin work at once.

Mrs. John Leddy Died in Epping on Friday Evening

Mrs. Ann Leddy, wife of John Leddy, one of the best known residents of Epping, died at her home in that town on Friday night, after a long illness, aged 60 years. Mrs. Leddy was formerly a resident of this city, being the widow of the late John Norton, who many years ago conducted a grocery store on Penhallow street. Mrs. Leddy was a woman of most charitable and hospitable disposition and she numbered her friends by her acquaintances, both in this

Public Warning

New York Physician Speaks Plainly About Fraudulent Hair Remedies

In the Cosmopolitan Magazine for February, 1909, there is a long article on the Hair and Scalp by Woods Hutchinson, M. D., a writer of wide renown, and in it he says: The strongest and most powerful curative elements of scalp tonics and hair restorers is their smell, and the next powerful is their color. Most of them are frauds, pure and simple, and produce no effect whatever except upon the imagination and the nostrils of the users. The most common constituent of them all is alcohol, and the next common probably ammonia or some aromatic oil or extract which has the double advantage of a powerful odor and of producing a mild sense of warmth and local irritation. All of this class are mild irritants to the skin and produce a light temporary reddening by an increase in the amount of blood circulating through the scalp, but this has about as much effect on the hair bulbs as the beams of the harvest moon have upon growing cabbages. The public is learning that falling hair, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by these fakes and frauds; but that the only sure way to benefit the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this purpose Dr. H. Head Wash, the new scientific preparation now so widely sold in the drug stores, is most highly recommended because it is made of Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Cocaine, Coconut Oil, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. Any doctor or hair specialist will tell you there are no better things known than these for cleaning the hair and scalp. Dr. H. Head Wash makes the hair clean, gives it a glossy lustre and restores it to a vigorous, healthy condition. It removes dandruff, dirt and disease germs from the scalp, opens up the pores, and gives the hair a chance to grow in the natural way. Dr. H. Head Wash is not a secret thing, but a standard preparation that careful, refined people use with safety, because they know exactly what it is made of. Price 50c.

ENTERTAINED THE AMESBURY FIREMEN

The Amesbury Veteran Firemen association were the guests on Sunday of the Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen association of this city at an outing held at Clark's island in the lower harbor. The visiting firemen arrived on Sunday morning and motor boats were at once taken for the island.

At noon a shore dinner was served under the direction of L. M. Thompson, and it was a great feast. There was everything that goes to make a shore dinner.

The afternoon was pleasantly passed on the island, and the past and future playboys and handbuds were thoroughly discussed. The return was made late in the afternoon in time to inspect the local association's headquarters and handbuds, and take the return train home.

HAMPTON

New Hampshire Night in the Oceanside Grange

D. W. Emery on a Visit to His Old Hampton Home

Hampton, Sept. 20.

Oceanside Grange held a regular meeting at their hall on Friday evening. It was New Hampshire night. For various reasons, those who had been assigned to the topics and to write papers were all absent and, but for the lecturer having some ready impromptu material at hand in the persons of accommodating members, we should have been minus a programme. As it was, C. O. Stickey told very interestingly of his mountain, Viola Nudd of its place in history. Mrs. E. M. Mack of its statesman, stating that Daniel Webster and John Stark had been two of our most illustrious and renowned sons. Through an act of Congress passed July 2, 1864, by which the old hall of the house of representatives at Washington was set apart, as a national statutory hall and the president was authorized to invite each and every state to furnish statues of not more than two of its deceased citizens, and there have erected in statutory. The national invitation was accepted, and of Daniel Webster the orator, statesman and greatest constitutional lawyer of our country. Then followed a discussion, "Should the State Grange hold schools of instruction in different parts of the state to exemplify the ruralistic work?" Everyone thought such meetings must be of great benefit. In the absence of the pianist, Mrs. Eastman from Chester, who is with her family, staying at Hampton Beach, presided at the piano and she was given a vote of thanks. Oceanside grange at this meeting voted to entertain East Rockingham Peabody grange in January.

Mr. D. W. Emery of Boston, is paying a visit to his native town. He was born in Hampton in the house now occupied by Stephen Hobbs and went from here when eight years of age. He is now cousin to Dr. Warren Lane, his father being a brother to Mr. Lane's mother. The original Emery family left South Hampton, England, to come to America, April 3, 1635, arriving here June 2, 1635. Lands and house lots were granted them in Newbury. They first had to be free men before they could vote. The family consisted of two brothers and one sister, John, Emery, Anthony Emery and Eleanor Emery. John remained in Newbury, Anthony went to Dover; then to Kittery and then to Providence, R. I. John Emery married and his wife died and the second wife was Mary Webster. In the third generation there was a Dr. Anthony Emery, a graduate from Harvard college in 1726, who was the great grandfather of the gentleman of this sketch. Dr. Anthony Emery bought the practice of Dr. Clement Jackson, these men marrying sisters. Dr. Anthony Emery was a surgeon in the Popperrell expedition to Louisbourg about 1745 and he was also a surgeon at Crown Point in the French and Indian wars about 1755. General Moulton of the haunted house married Dr. Anthony Emery's daughter and it was this marriage that prompted the poet Whittier to write "The Old Wife and the New." About this time very friendly relations existed between the men of Hampton and Governor Wentworth of Portsmouth. Gen. Moulton and about forty men from Hampton went over to visit the governor and they took along a fat-ted ox for a barbecue. Very soon forty of Wentworth's friends were granted one mile square of land, making forty square miles, situated in Plymouth and Andover, N. H., in the Pemigewasset valley. Gen. Moulton was granted about eight townships, amounting to about 80,000 acres of land situated in Moultonboro, Sandwich and Center Harbor, and other lands in that vicinity. Amos Trunk married Mr. Emery's cousin, Nabby Emery's daughter, Sarah Ann Nudd. The subject of this sketch was one of nine children, two of whom died in infancy. He married Abbie T. Sanderson of Boston and she died in 1886, leaving one son, Whittier, who is married and lives at No. 40 Beacon street, Boston, with whom Mr. Emery makes his home. His son is an architect and interior decorator of rugs, carpets and furnishings. D. W. Emery was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Warren Lane. He was pleased to renew his acquaintance in Hampton, but found scarcely anyone with whom he used to associate. He attended Hampton Academy with Mr. E. W. Lane for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Savage, a retired merchant of Springfield, Mass., is visiting at Mr. E. W. Lane's. Mrs. Savage is a sister of Mrs. Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brew of Hampton Beach have had as their guests her mother, Mrs. Elbridge Jacobs; her nephew, Albert Jacobs; her brother, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jacobs; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood of Rochester; and Mrs. J. H. Nutter of Nashua.

NEW CASTLE NEWS

Tribute to Memory of Alfred M. Meloon

Massachusetts Folks Go and Come in Island Town

Now, Castle, Sept. 20.

At his home on Wentworth avenue Saturday afternoon, at two-thirty o'clock, friends and relatives gathered to bid their last goodnight to one they had known and loved sincerely Mr. Alfred M. Meloon. This death recalls the words of Whittier, "God's ways, seem dark but soon or late they touch the shining hills of day. The evil cannot brook delay; the good can afford to wait." Rev. E. C. Ewing officiated and read several Scripture selections where the promise of immortality are so fully and consolingly contained and made comforting remarks which were followed by the impressive Knights of Pythias funeral service, proud to say "he was one of us." No more will we feel the grasp of that firm hand, no more hear the ringing tones of greeting or merry laughter which over-spoken near his lips. The casket was fairly buried in beautiful floral tributes very large and exquisite in arrangement and variety and were from the following: Pil- low, family; mound, grandchildren; wreath of roses and ferns, Mrs. Niles; roses and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. William Meloon; mound, Mr. and Mrs. Prohaska; mound, Mrs. George B. French; pillow, Knights of Pythias; bouquet of roses, Mrs. John Dow; cut bouquet, Mrs. Granville Amazeen; mound, Leon Hayward, flat bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Hulbey and son Charles; flat bouquet of asters and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker, Jr.; flat bouquet, Mrs. Joseph Patch; bouquet of pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Emory and son Julius; bouquet of pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Tarlton; bouquet of daisies and asters, Mr. George Miller; bouquet of roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Odiorne; bouquet of asters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prohaska, Jr.; bouquet of roses and pinks, Mr. George Odiorne.

Mr. Meloon is survived by a wife, two children, George B. Meloon, Mrs. Zetta Ernest, and one brother, Mr. William T. Meloon. When Hallam died his friend Tennyson was painfully stricken and affected because of his demise, but as a result of that profound sorrow, of the poet, we have the greatest poem ever written in the memory of the dead and the poem speaks to the man and to mankind that Nothing walks with aimless feet,

That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete.

Let me repeat for the benefit of every mourning one today. But though today you stand beneath the shadow of the cross, though hearts within you seem breaking, hope like a rainbow shines through each tear and bids you remember that the golden chains of love and friendship are broken below, they are re-chained link by link in that land where the sun never goes down.

Mr. Justin Yenton and family of Lynn are visiting relatives.

Mr. Alexander Whitto, after a three months sojourn, has returned to his home in Haverhill.

The second edition of Booth's Famous People, a 32-page booklet, has just been published and will be sent free to any reader of this paper. A postal card will do.

The book contains portraits and concise autobiographies of some famous people, including Conan Doyle, Maude Adams, Madam Curie, the discoverer of Radium, and Sir Thomas Lipton, the merchant prince of the world.

There are four pages of valuable information, such as "How to Case of Accidents," "Antidotes for Poisons," "Stamp Collection," "How to Tell a Person's Age," "Bible facts and figures," and other interesting features. Mention this paper when writing, and address Booth's Hygienic Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The bids for the new naval hospital at the navy yard would indicate that it was to be a very large building. The present building is altogether too small for the men now stationed here.
